DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings filed on 7/10/2003 are accepted by the Examiner.

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The limitations of, "wherein each said bobbin has a pair of terminal grooves formed at one end thereof, each to receive and guide a said stator terminal to near the second contact portion of the respective bobbin terminal; and wherein, when said stator is assembled to said stator housing, said stator terminals extend along the respective terminal grooves to automatically pass the respective first contact portions to near the respective second contact portions" in combination with the remaining claimed structure (of claim 1) is neither found nor fairly suggested in the prior art or any combination thereof.

As to claim 11 the limitations of, "and each said bobbin has a pair of terminal grooves (61c, see figure 13A) formed at one end thereof near said pair of bobbin terminals to receive said stator terminals so as to automatically pass each said first contact portion to near the respective second contact portion" in combination with the remaining claimed structure (of claim 11) is neither found nor fairly suggested in the prior art or any combination thereof.

The method steps, claim 12 with the limitations of, "and assembling the stator core into stator housing to insert the stator terminals into the grooves of the bobbin" is
